

FARMERS SWINDLED

George F. Cole, about 45 years of age, a wholesale commission merchant in dairy and farm products at 141 Atlantic avenue, Boston, was arrested on Thursday on complaint of Postoffice Inspector Charles M. Perkins, charged with fraudulent use of the mails.

In the arrest of this man, who is alleged to have mulcted New England farmers of hundreds of dollars' worth of poultry and other farm products, one of the cleverest swindlers known to the force of postoffice inspectors has been taken into custody according to Inspector Perkins.

In a number of cases persons writing to Cole asking for a remittance for their products received their letter back with the following death notice pasted on the top: "COLE—In Roxbury, Sept. 27, George B. Cole, aged 41 years." At the side of the death notice was written in ink: "Died from heart failure. Didn't leave a dollar."

WANT TO BE MAYOR

Eben H. Blaisdell and Major Urch Said to be in the Field

Eben H. Blaisdell (the McDonough street grocer and war horse of the republican party, now announced himself as a mayoralty candidate at the coming city election. Eben always had time by the forelock and this occasion is no exception. It is understood that he will begin doing business at once building up his political barricade and taking the kinks out of the wires. While Eben looks for a clear field it is understood that he is likely to run up against opposition in the caucus in the person of Major David Urch. The major has to the past side stepped for the convenience and good of others and his party and it is understood that he will not be pushed outside the breakfast table this trip without a fight. His friends say its time that ward four furnished a chief executive for Portsmouth or at least a nominee for the mayor's chair.

PRES. TAFT REVIEWS MIGHTY WAR FLEET

From Bridge of Mayflower He Receives Salutes From Fleet that Has Never Been Equaled.

New York, Nov. 2.—From the bridge of the Mayflower, where Roosevelt had stood to bid Good-bye to the departing and a joyous welcome to the home coming battle-ship fleet that circled the globe, three years ago, President Taft reviewed today the most notable assemblage of warships in the history of the American Navy.

In three long columns, stretching as far as the eye could see up the Hudson River, the grim, gray ships—38 in all—had awaited the President's coming. In his honor they were dressed from stem to stern in fluttering flags, as if attempting for this gala occasion to conceal the muzzles of their death-dealing guns.

The significance of the mobilization and review of the fleet at this time was simply to demonstrate the preparedness of the American navy for any emergency. To further impress this fact upon the President and the nation, to say nothing of the world at large, the naval authorities were not content with the usual plan of holding a review of the fleet at anchor. This, part of the program was gone through with today, following the custom of past years, but in addition the orders provided that after the Mayflower had steamed through the several columns the fleet should get under way and pass out to sea together.

This double spectacle made the review unique in the annals of naval displays throughout the world, and attracted to New York the military and naval attaches of most of the powers of Europe.

President Taft materially altered his travel plans to come to New York at this time to witness the pageant. He left for Hot Springs, Va. late this afternoon.

Taft's First Real View of Navy.

It was President Taft's first real view of the American Navy. It had so happened since he entered the White House that the fleet, which was so greatly admired by his predecessor, Col. Roosevelt, had been on widely scattered duty for the greater part of the time.

From the bridge of the Presidential yacht, Mayflower, Mr. Taft reviewed the gray armada that for nearly a week had swung at anchor in the Hudson River, waiting his inspection. As the little white Mayflower picked her way in and out among the giant craft of the battleship line, the guns of the fleet roared in a reverberating chorus of salutes.

Accepting these tributes as a matter of course and disdaining to reply to any of them, the yacht, with the President's blue-crested flag at the main truck, sailed gracefully along the seven-mile column of fighting ships, turned at the end and headed again down the river.

Late this afternoon the entire fleet, 38 vessels in all, got under way and passed in review of the President, while the Mayflower lay at anchor off the Statue of Liberty.

Entire Day Spent on the Water.

President Taft planned to spend the entire day upon the water, and not once during his visit to the fleet was he to touch Manhattan Island.

AN INFANT'S SKIN

The skin of infants is very liable to irritation, inflammation, chapping, cracking, roughness, itchy heat, rash, etc., which may be caused by improper food, impaired digestion, or other internal causes. Cadum, the new remedy, gives immediate relief in such troubles. It stops the irritation at once, allays inflammation, and gives the little sufferer complete rest and comfort. Cadum contains an extract from the tree Juniperus, or yecederus, which has a most soothing and healing effect when the skin is inflamed, irritated or diseased. It is harmless and can be used with safety on the tender skin of infants. It cures the skin, and suddenly blooms with the

The long strings of fluttering flagships let so with 21 guns. Next in line was the Michigan. So the most gorgeous in the fleet, the it was with the Delaware, the North usual single line of pennants being Dakota and the other ships down supplemented by others that arose the line. Each in its turn paid com- pliment to the President. Mr. Taft stood on the bridge and lifted his hat as he passed the colors of the various vessels.

On board each battleship and on board the destroyers, the sides were manned with bluejackets, giving a living outline to the steel belted hulls. On the quarter decks the officers, in the gold and lace of special full dress uniforms, were assembled and at attention. The Soda crackers are extremely sensitive to moisture.

Before the advent of Uneeda Biscuit the only persons who ever tasted fresh, crisp soda crackers were the people in the bakeries.

Imagine their trip from bakery to your table; exposed to air and moisture—kept in grocers' boxes and finally in a paper bag on the shelf in your pantry. Could they be the same as they were the day they were baked?

Now that we have Uneeda Biscuit—we have perfectly baked soda crackers—perfectly kept.

No moisture can reach them—no contaminating influences can affect their flavor—their goodness is imprisoned only to be liberated by you for you when you open the package.

CHAPMAN CAPTURED

He Applied for Work of a Bow Farmer and Was Taken Into Custody

William B. Chapman of this city, who escaped from the State hospital at Concord early Sunday morning, was captured Thursday afternoon at Bow, by Walter Perigo, at whose farm he applied for work, and was turned over to the hospital authorities. Chapman offered no resistance to his captor and was taken back to his cell without difficulty.

The man was apparently in a nearly exhausted condition, limping painfully from the injury to his ankle sustained in his jump from the hospital window. He approached the Perigo house early in the morning and asked for work. Mr. Perigo recognized the man from the complete description published in the papers, gave him a minor task to keep him busy and telephoned the state hospital.

The officials hurried to the farm by automobile and told Chapman he was wanted. He climbed into the machine and was taken back, offering no resistance. He appears to have suffered considerably from lack of food and nourishment.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S WARNING

Republicans greatly should observe with some care, the trend of President Taft's closing speech in Chicago. There was in it no tendency to surrender a principle, no disposition to retreat, so far as he is concerned, or so far as the party is concerned from any of the positions which have been taken in the past. There was a note of gladness in the reference to the fact that the Republican party has served the Nation as well as it has, and some degree of confidence was expressed that history will give credit for present day faithfulness as it has for faithfulness when great issues have been at stake in the past.

But there was another note in President Taft's speech concerning which Republicans should give more earnest thought. This note has been played up by the Democratic press as an admission of the danger of defeat in the election next year. Undoubtedly the President so intended it. Some of the correspondents writing from Chicago have assumed that the President's remark was a slip of the tongue due either to weariness after a long journey and hard campaigning. We do not so believe. It was, as we take it, a deliberate warning to the Republicans of the Nation, those of Maine included. The Country, like our State, is normally and reasonably Republican. Divisions in party ranks weaken the party to such an extent as to leave it an easy prey to a more united enemy. President Taft could hardly have spoken more plainly to his party associates and to all that the divisional lines which are being emphasized and enlarged upon in the party ranks, must lead to defeat. He could hardly have been more explicit had he gone on to say that, suffering under the smarts of defeat, the party might, after one Democratic administration, bring it all together again and once more assume control of the affairs of the Nation.

The President is very probably right in his prognostication of defeat under existing circumstances. We in Maine, instead of being behind the rest of the Country, are a half ahead of it. We suffered our defeat in 1910 and if we would have a clean strong efficient and dignified government again, we must lose sight of the minor party difference which have disorganized us for the present, and basing our next campaign upon the old traditions and the long established principles of the Republican party, make the effort to redeem the State in 1912 as President Taft thinks very possibly the Nation may be redeemed in 1916.

We do not suppose that the President regards the outlook for next year as absolutely hopeless, but with the LaFollette campaign, with a certain gun gridiron warriors are now ready, a portion of the Republican party so to lay violent hands upon the middle class to the Democratic camp that skin warriors of Syracuse, Cornell and the difference can hardly be discerned in Pennsylvania. The team is not over, with a mental microscope, there is no world beating team, but to really does seem to be little hope of a Republican victory.

Still, signs are not all against us. The splendid fight which is being put up in Massachusetts against the Mountbatten, Fox and his characteristically following, gives reasonable assurance that the old Bay State will bring back into the Republican ranks in the election which occurs so soon. YOU CAN HAVE HEALTHY HAIR

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Makes the Hair Grow

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old need have gray hair, weak, thin or falling out hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is a clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at any time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start today with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Chicago was more of a frost than anything else. Ex-President Roosevelt was declared his purpose to remain silent during the campaign. There is a possibility if reasonable diligence is cultivated that party differences may be healed, and there is always the reasonable hope which lies in the fact that Republican principles are sound and just and right, and ought to prevail.—Portland Express.

AFTER THE BROWN TAILS

Dover, Nov. 2.—The work of scouting for gypsy moths in the northern section of the infested district in New Hampshire began today. A detail of seven Federal scouts arrived here from Boston and proceeded to Gilmanton, where the work starts. Col. Thomas H. Dearborn of this city, the State agent for the suppression of the gypsy and brown-tail moths, said today that the scouting of the southern towns was accomplished in the early fall and that the scouts have since been working in Massachusetts.

REGARDING DR. COWLES

Communication from Dr. Christian, Dean of Harvard Medical School

Editor, Herald:—

In the issue of the Portsmouth Daily Herald of Monday, October 16th, 1911, on page 1, in a communication signed Edward S. Cowles, M. D., I find the following sentence: "In fact I am a graduate of the Virginia High school, the college of William and Mary, University of Virginia, and the Harvard Medical school."

In reference to the Harvard Medical school I would state that the name of Dr. Edward S. Cowles appears in the Harvard University Catalogue for the year 1907-08 among the medical students, being listed on page 178 under the general heading of first class, with the words, "M. D., University of Medicine, Virginia, 1907," following his name, and a footnote indicating that he was admitted by a special vote of the Administrative Board. He was in attendance at the Harvard Medical school only during this college year. He did not graduate from the Harvard Medical school.

As the facts stated above are not in exact accord with the sentence quoted from his communication in so far as it refers to the Harvard Medical school, I think it only fair to the Harvard Medical school to make you this statement.

Regretting to thus impose upon your time, I am

Very truly yours

ENDS INDIGESTION IN A FEW MOMENTS

Gas, Heartburn, Sourness, and all Misery in Stomach Vanishes

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

But what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching, Gas on stomach, Heartburn, Headaches from stomach, Nausea, Bad Breath, Water brise or feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other objectionable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or Sleepless nights or Headache or Stomach misery all the next day; and besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clear and fresh. Pape's Diapiesin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or Dyspepsia. There is nothing better for Gas on the Stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to a Stomach Headache.

You couldn't keep a handkerchief or more useful article in the house.

MAINE ELECTION

Great Uncertainty About the Next To Be Taken

Augusta, Me., Nov. 2.—The question whether the proclamation by Governor Plaisted, making known the result of the September election on the repeal of the prohibition clause of the state constitution, may be issued before Dec. 1, the legal time limit for such action, could not be determined from information obtainable at the state house today. The question whether the returns from four towns shall stand as reported, or whether they shall be corrected in accordance with evidence that the figures are erroneous presented to the governor and council at sitting held on Sept. 25 and Oct. 9, is still under consideration. No decision was announced at the meeting of the governor and council on Oct. 29 and no one officially connected would profess ability today to state whether action would be taken at the next meeting of the council on Nov. 16. The only definite fact available today was that the governor, under the law must issue a proclamation of the result of the election not later than Dec. 1.

As the matter stands, the official returns canvassed by the governor and council give a majority of twenty-six votes for the repeal of the prohibitory amendment. If the returns alleged to be erroneous from four towns are accepted as correct, a majority of 759 against repeal would result.

The possibility that the courts may be asked to pass upon the questioned returns introduce a third alternative, hitherto as the courts, it is said, could declare the disputed figures void and order them stricken from the tables. Such a step would bring about a majority of 486 against repeal.

THACKERAY AS A TALKER.

A Grand Oratorical Display That Did Not Take Place.

Thackeray was terribly self-conscious and usually presented a very poor appearance when he attempted to deliver a speech. "Why can't they get Dickens to take the chair?" he grumbled when he had to preside at the general theatrical fund. "He can make a speech, and a good one. I'm of no use. They little think how nervous I am, and Dickens doesn't know the meaning of the word."

An amusing story is recorded of the occasion when, with Mr. Fields, the well known American publisher, Thackeray traveled to Manchester to make a speech at the founding of the Free Library institution in that town. The would be orator declared that, although Dickens and Walter Lytton and Sir James Stephen were to precede him, he intended to beat each of them on this occasion. He insisted that Mr. Fields should be seated directly in front of him so that he should not miss a single word.

Later, as he rose, he looked at his friend as much as to say, "I'll show you what speaking is." He began faintly, was excellent for two minutes and then in the midst of a most earnest sentence stopped suddenly, gave a look of comic despair and sat down. "My boy," he said when the meeting was over—"my boy, you have accidentally missed hearing one of the finest speeches ever prepared by a great British orator."—"Some Aspects of Thackeray," by Lewis Melville.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1911.
SHOULD BE REMEDIED

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston this week took the bull by the horns when he said if New England was to boom, one thing was essential—to make it possible for the New England railroads to properly handle their business at Boston without delay. He stated that the last Massachusetts legislature blocked President McEllen's efforts for necessary tunnels and at the coming session Boston should see that this important matter was remedied, so that business could be moved through Boston with unnecessary detention.

A GREAT NAVAL DISPLAY

New York has been treated this week to the most imposing naval demonstration that this country has ever witnessed. It included 25 battleships and a number of cruisers, destroyers, torpedo boats, sub marines and auxiliaries making a total of 102 vessels with a tonnage of 577,285 tons. Such an array of warships is imposing and the impression is heightened by the knowledge that these ships are manned by crews not to be excelled in efficiency and fighting qualities by the crews of any navy in the world. The one disquieting thought suggested by such a great display of naval armament is the enormous cost it represents. A navy adequate for defensive purposes is essential, but in the international rivalry and craze for the big navies the limits of the essential are constantly being extended. The naval powers of the world are wasting hundreds of millions yearly in this rivalry, and correspondingly increasing the burdens of taxation. When it will end cannot be foretold, but end it must in time from sheer exhaustion, unless the people themselves call a halt and international common sense puts a check upon international ambitions.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

The storm of Saturday night and Sunday morning was very severe; a large amount of rain fell and the wind varying from east to south, blew a gale. The tide at the wharves in this city was much higher than has been known for years. Quite a large quantity of wood lying upon different wharves was washed off and floated into the docks. Several small boats were stove in pieces, and others badly damaged at their moorings.

The ladies of the Soldiers' Aid Society would give notice that their rooms at the Custom House will be opened from the 10th to the 15th of this month, for the purpose of packing Hospital stores for the Volunteers, and an opportunity will be offered for any contributions either of blankets, bedding, good knit socks or clothing of any kind. Stores for the sick such as, corn, dried fruits, jellies, wines, sago, etc.; also reading matter in the shape of books and pamphlets, all of which contributed to be much needed, and would be very acceptable. All articles will be carefully packed and forwarded to suit the wishes of the donors.

A gentleman who must be somewhat of a philosopher, a short time since arrived in this city from Norfolk Va., whence he had managed to escape. For a time he was in great anxiety on account of his wife and children whom he had been compelled to leave behind him. But within a few days they have joined him here; and he learning that the rebels had confiscated his house, quietly remarked, "I don't care about the coop, so long as I have the chickens safe."

In a recent case where one of the New York regiments took the fence belonging to a loyal Virginia woman to use for firewood, Gen. Wadsworth issued an order requiring the regiment to go into the woods, cut new rails and rebuild the fence destroyed.

extreme limits of the Texan coast. Both projects are, in fact, related, and there is quite as much interest shown in the Gulf intercoastal waterway as in the Atlantic coast project. Evidently, both must be considered together, if the government is to be called upon to help one or the other. At the present the Atlantic schemes appear to be going forward through private enterprise, as in the case of the Cape Cod canal, and in this seems to lie the difference at present between the north and the south. Presumably in time this difference will be effaced, and the capital of the entire country will be interested in the development of the inland water route along the Gulf coast.—Manchester Union.

Controlling Sleep
John Wesley, whose activities, as a preacher have been compared by Dr. Crothers to those of Bryan were, he a life-long, twelve-months-in-the-year candidate for the presidency, attributed vigor in old age to his ability to command sleep any time he desired. If Wesley had a half-hour, not absolutely needed for any task, he could as deliberately apply that period to sleep as other men might to eating, or to walking. Edward Everett Hale, at least in the latter years of his life, possessed the same happy faculty. Many young people are now acquiring it. One prominent New York publisher, hardly 50 years old, says that he decides to sleep, on a railroad train or elsewhere, according to his own sweet will.

The idea that one can sleep only when that blessed boon seems fit to come, is thus likely to be seriously challenged. The ordering of sleep, daughter, Elmore, to Lieut. Arthur as one would order a dinner, is the Hopkins Rice, Jr., U. S. N., on Saturday next "cause" in this age of urday, Nov. 18, at six o'clock at her outdoor bedrooms, baths at season-Middle street residence.

WHAT HAPPENED AT DOVER
Owing to the steadily growing business of both the freight and passenger departments of the Boston and Maine at Dover, the special economy committee of the directors, which recently investigated conditions there with the view of making possible reduction in the force of employees, recommended only two changes which went into effect on Thursday.

The assistant ticket agent was removed and the clerk and stenographer of General Agent Cosselin was assigned to the additional duty of assisting in the ticket office. One member of the car cleaning force was dropped.

Mrs. Josephine Richter has issued the other night to Baker, his hard hitting infielder, that Jimmy Collins was the greatest third baseman that ever played the game. And there are many other followers of the diamond sport who agreed with Mack in this, but one would naturally expect Connie to give Baker the crown, after the work he did for the Athletics in the world's series games.

Once again the heavyweight wrestling situation takes on a funny look. The cause of this is that Zhyzko, the giant pole, has arrived in this country and is hankering for a bout with Frank Gotch. The chances are that these two artists may be signed up for a bout. Gotch has already retired twice, but he has as much right to come back and try it over again as did Patti. This Patti lady, however, was a singer and a sweet singer at that—who gave the public pleasure, but oh, those heavyweight wrestlers.

BITS OF SPORT

The Dover bowling team defeated Rochester at Rochester on Thursday evening in the second game of the series by a score of 1398 to 1362.

A member of the National Baseball commission has a new plan in mind, and if it passes the board it will be far from popular with big league players. The rule, if passed, will prevent players from writing newspaper articles on the world's series, and will also prevent the stars from going on the stage during the off-season. If this goes into effect a means at present pulling down a lot of easy money on the side, will have to go along without this extra change.

Great interest is being taken in the Harvard-Princeton football game which comes off tomorrow. Harvard's easy victory over Brown last Saturday has sent her stock soaring. However, Princeton has been putting up a strong game and will not go under the Crimson assault without a fierce struggle. But the showing of the Crimson warriors against the winners. Just now Harvard looks like the best eleven in the college football world, but, of course, Yale will dispute any such imputation.

Pennsylvania was so disgusted over her defeat at the hand of the Penn State last Saturday that she refused to respond to the volley of cheers given by the victors. Penn State cheered and cheered, but Pennsylvania refused to answer. Then one of the State college students yelled, "Put it in a letter and send it over." Pennsylvania certainly had a good reason to feel sore over the defeat, but she should have been a better loser. It is the easiest thing in the world to be a joyful winner, but a good loser is worth half a hundred good winners.

The Andover football team will have to come fast to beat Exeter a week from Saturday. The Exeter eleven has played five games this fall while Andover has been in but two battles. In these two games, however, Andover has come to the mark and bettered the score made by Exeter against the Dartmouth freshmen.

Eight members of the Philadelphia National league baseball team have gone to Cuba, where twelve games will be played against the Cubans. Dick Cotto, formerly of Manchester, is among the number to make the trip. Cotto joined the Phillies late in the season as a catcher, and made a splendid impression on Manager Doolin of that club.

Connie Mack said at a dinner given the other night to Baker, his hard hitting infielder, that Jimmy Collins was the greatest third baseman that ever played the game. And there are many other followers of the diamond sport who agreed with Mack in this, but one would naturally expect Connie to give Baker the crown, after the work he did for the Athletics in the world's series games.

The new American league grounds in Boston are gradually resuming proportions. The sod from the infield at the Huntington avenue grounds is being transplanted on the infield of the new park. Jerome Kelley, who has been ground keeper since the American league entered Boston, is in charge of the work on the grounds, which means that the infield of the new park will compare favorably with that of the old ball yard.

Russell Wear, the York High school pitcher, has received an offer from the management of the Worcester New England league team for a tryout in the Spring. Wear has declined the offer, however, as he is going to finish his studies in school before entering baseball as a profession, if does then.

Borden Says Reciprocity Would Have Affected Fiscal System--Trusts Both Will Observe Peace Centenary

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 2.—H. L. Borden, the new Premier of Canada, emphasized the fact in a speech here tonight that the recent election in Canada by which an agreement for reciprocity with the United States in certain commodities was defeated was in no wise due to hostile or unfriendly spirit by the people of Canada to the great neighboring republic, as had been said in some quarters.

The occasion for Mr. Borden's speech was the banquet tendered him by the Conservatives of Halifax and of the province. It was the biggest function of the kind ever given here.

Emphasizing his point against any unfriendliness on Canada's part in the election, Mr. Borden said: "It is desirable that any such idea, if it exists, should be dissipated and dispelled."

Each party's compact would have interfered with Canada's complete control of its own fiscal system and in many respects it was properly regarded as a reversal of the policy which this country had pursued for many years. The Canadian people were startled and alarmed by the idea or suggestion that two members of the Government, without any mandate from the people, should enter into a treaty which would materially alter that policy. Moreover, the interlocking of our

Winter by the calendar may be more than a month away. But winter was much in evidence yesterday both to sight and feeling in New Castle. Whither has vanished the old time cheerfulness and geniality of our autumn weather? There is nothing in the whole round of the year to compare with the "Indian summer." The odorous hazy warmth of the spicy fragrance of the ripened leaves carpeting the roadway underfoot gives a pungency to the breeze that is draw when passing over them. ASK FOR RECEIVER

Cocheco Mills Company Trustee File Petition in Superior Court at Dover.

Dover, Nov. 2.—The Superior court at Dover was asked today to consider the appointment of a receiver for the Cocheco Woolen Manufacturing company's mills here through a bill in equity filed by Ellen P. Whitehouse and Leslie P. Snow, trustee et al. against the Cocheco company.

The amount of the capital stock of the company is $150,000 and the petitioners represent 300 shares of a par value of $50.00.

It is alleged that Parker, Wilder and company of Boston and New York, purchasing and selling agent for the woolen company, has improperly and unlawfully advanced the interests of this copartnership to the damage of the Cocheco Corporation.

It is alleged that Parker, Wilder and company claim that the Cocheco Mills owe them $200,000.

The petitioners in their bill today claim that the capital stock of the company has become so far impaired that this claim if a valid one, would make the company insolvent.

The court is asked to enjoin the proposed action of the creditors and to settle the justness of the claims. If the claims are found just the petitioners ask that a receiver be appointed. The action is returnable at the next sitting of the court the second Thursday in February.

SUPERIOR COURT

The morning session of the superior court was occupied in hearing the case of Arthur Dedes of this city against the Boston and Maine railroad. Dedes alleges the failure to deliver and the late delivery of $147.25 of fruit consigned to him.
